“Being Together” Territory-wide Flag Day Connects all Walks of Life to Support People in Need

CFSC held its Flag Day on 26th November 2022 under the theme of “Being Together”. This highlighted our goal to bring the Agency together with its service users and the general public, in order to realise our four visions – Love, Joy, Connection, and Wish. We are committed to accompanying our various service users and overcoming adversity, thereby shaping a better future together. We teamed up with the local illustration brand “SHIBAINC” for the first time to promote this territory-wide flag-selling event. Through a series of parent-child activities and selling limited charity products in our online store, including exquisite leather gifts made by our service users, we strive to serve those in need by bringing them positive energy, thus fulfilling the principle of “helping others to help themselves”.

The event was held successfully and thank you to the collaboration of all parties, including our corporate partners, media sponsors, organisations and schools, as well as our 6,000 volunteers who stood on different corners of the streets selling flags, our staff in various posts who provided assistance, and the generous people who were willing to support us. The flag sale raised a total of more than HK$1.86 million, and the money will be used to provide education and training for children with special educational needs, improve the living conditions of low-income families and subdivided housing households, support grassroots service users to purchase information technology or assistive equipment, and provide emergency support services for carers.

The theme of Flag Day was “Being Together”, and it was our first time cooperating with the “SHIBAINC” brand.

Our service users presented their gratitude to thank everyone from all walks of life for their assistance.

The donations raised will be used to develop and enhance various social services of the Agency to build a caring society.

Showcasing the Talent of our service users in our Chinese New Year Charity Bazaar

In order to help our service users with disabilities unleash their potential, the Agency provides them with diverse skills training opportunities, so that they can make the most of their talent through different works. During the Lunar New Year, we prepared special limited Year of the Rabbit gifts for sale, including leather card cases sewn by our service users and DIY packages consisting of New Year Greetings drawn by CFSC kindergarten students. These gifts allowed members of the public to appreciate the talent of people with disabilities, while getting to know more about our services. In addition to encouraging people with disabilities to develop their potential and build self-confidence, the charity sale raised funds for the development of the Agency’s services, which helped improve the quality of our services provided to support children, people with disabilities and grassroots families.

Production highlights of the Year of the Rabbit card cases

A set of Year of the Rabbit “Fai Chun” came with Chinese New Year stickers, allowing children to unleash their creativity and try out some DIY skills.

The Year of the Rabbit card cases, which were sewn meticulously by our students, were practical to use and also carried a special meaning.

Awarding Volunteers In Recognition of Their Selfless Contributions

To encourage people from all walks of life to participate in community service, the Agency organises a “Volunteer Recognition Ceremony” every year to celebrate the volunteers collaborating with us. The theme of this award ceremony was “Together, Let’s Volunteer”. We would like to thank the corporations and organisations across various industries, as well as the individual volunteers for their selfless dedication over the past year, enabling the Agency to provide a wide range of services and serve the community.

Due to the large number of award recipients, the “Corporate/Organisation Volunteer Recognition Ceremony” and “Individual Volunteer Recognition Ceremony” were held across two days. A total of nearly 200 individual volunteers and 76 corporates and organisations received our awards. Their total number of volunteering hours reached 20,381 hours, with a total of 149,115 beneficiaries.

The award recipients gathered together to share their experiences and encourage one another.

The volunteers were selflessly devoted to supporting the disadvantaged.

Enterprises Join Forces to Help the Disadvantaged

With the outbreak of the fifth wave of COVID-19 last year, people across Hong Kong were faced with a series of issues that included isolation and fear of contracting the disease, as well as a lack of income due to the temporary suspension of work, with grassroots families and elderly people living alone being affected the most. This situation was worrisome, but fortunately, there are many caring people in our society, and a number of enterprises were willing to donate money and contribute their efforts to support those in need.

At that time, CFSC quickly received feedback from more than 20 enterprises and foundations that were actively engaging in charitable work. They donated close to 200,000 items, including protective masks, hand sanitisers, disinfectants, disinfecting wipes, packs of rice, canned food, pasta and noodles, shower gel, dining coupons and supermarket cash coupons, with a total value of around HK$5.4 million, which greatly helped to reduce the economic burden of underprivileged groups.

The demand for food items and other daily necessities greatly increased during the pandemic, and the Agency was fortunate to receive a helping hand from many enterprises.

The elderly expressed gratitude for the generous donations, which helped them overcome the difficulties.
